

February 21, 2020

Dear Iowa State University community:

You still have time to register for the Thomas L. Hill ISCORE: Iowa State Conference on Race and Ethnicity. The conference is scheduled from 8:15 a.m. – 5 p.m., Friday, March 6, in the Memorial Union. Register online at bit.ly/ISCORE2020.

ISCORE is Iowa State University's premier event for students, faculty and staff to engage in constructive dialogue and enhance understanding of racial and ethnic issues on campus, in our community, and across the country. It is modeled after the annual National Conference on Race and Ethnicity (NCORE).

ISCORE 2020 will feature an opening address from Dr. Vijay Kanagala, an Iowa State University alumnus and Associate Professor of Secondary and Higher Education and Coordinator of the Higher Education in Student Affairs Program at Salem State University. A luncheon keynote panel composed of Iowa State alumni will reflect on their experiences as NCORE-ISCORE scholars. ISCORE participants will choose from a broad array of 50 min. sessions to attend in the morning and afternoon. These sessions will be presented by students, faculty, and staff. The full schedule is available here.

We aspire to make Iowa State University the most welcoming and inclusive land-grant university in the country – and that requires commitment and action from every individual. Attending ISCORE is an excellent way to acquire knowledge that you can turn into action in accordance with our Principles of Community. I encourage you to join me and hundreds of your colleagues and classmates for this exceptional conference.

I look forward to seeing you at ISCORE 2020!

Wendy Wintersteen
President

P.S. Click on the video below for a quick look at ISCORE's 20-year impact at Iowa State University.

